

Kosher Food across European Region

Kosher food is a very important part of being a Jewish person and care needs to be taken to ensure that certified kosher food is provided at activities within our region when requested. The comprehensive list below will guide you in finding kosher food accepted by all levels of Judaism. Please be aware that 'Kosher Style' food is not an acceptable form of Kosher food.

Mass produced packaged items that are certified Kosher across Europe

Many mass produced goods have been certified Kosher by a Beth Din (Rabbinical Authority) allowing a stamp to be placed on the products. Below are examples of stamps that are found on products exported throughout the world. If there are any country specific stamps then these will be shown under the relevant country listed later on in this document.

For packaged products sold in supermarkets and other grocery stores across Europe, please search using: <https://rabbiscer.org/kashrut-europe/>

Kosher Meals

The list below is as comprehensive as possible. If these contacts do not work and you only need a small order of kosher meals then please order ready-made frozen meals from Hoffy's or Hermolis. Both companies sell through the below websites:

<https://www.kosher4u.eu/groceries/fresh-long-life-meals/hoffys-fresh-meals>
